

Introduction

Bob Tryanski meets with thousands of people each year, encouraging them to approach life with a clarity of purpose and the determination to make their dreams a reality. He has spoken at conferences and schools in forty-six states and addressed audiences from Canada, France, Russia, Japan, and South Africa.

Like most of the people in this audience, Bob has never won an Oscar, Grammy, or Super Bowl ring. He was not raised by wolves, and his life story will never be turned into a movie of the week. In spite of this, Bob has an interesting story to tell and a provocative message to share. The message is filled with hope, devoid of hype, and delivered with a refreshing sense of wit and wisdom.
